

Association for Dental Education in Europe

Excellence in Dental Education Award

This is to certify that

Jorge Tricio

Has been recognised for his outstanding contribution to excellence in dental education as a Mature Educator.

This ADEE award recognises the highest standards of educational expertise within the non-professorial group of experienced dental educators. It provides an independent evaluation and recognition of the excellence of their sustained, high quality educational contribution and their promotion of the exchange of intellectual resources in dental education through national and international activities.
